After Pac Rim you still may need a little aloha…
Join us for an in-depth discussion with national leaders in the field of disability researchers and policy makers.

What: National Capacity Building Institute, “Supporting Individuals with Disabilities Across Secondary School, Postsecondary School and Employment” (University credit available).

When and Where: March 6-8, 2002, Sheraton Waikiki, Honolulu, Hawaii, in conjunction with the Annual Pacific Rim Conference, March 3-5, 2002.

Who Should Attend: Secondary school educators, special educators, counselors, transition coordinators, postsecondary education and support specialists, individuals with disabilities, parents, and other persons involved with postsecondary education and employment opportunities for youth with disabilities.

Agenda: Includes pre-Institute readings and online discussion, presentations by nationally recognized speakers from throughout the United States, interactive discussion groups aimed at developing policy recommendations, post-institute follow-up to assist with applying new ideas to the real world, and of course, time to relax and rejuvenate in Paradise!

Sponsored by the National Center on Secondary Education and Transition (NCSET), University of Minnesota, and the National Center for the Study of Postsecondary Educational Supports (NCSPES), University of Hawai‘i at Manoa.
